

On September 11th, The Kingdom Heirs, The Old Paths, and representatives of Sonlite Records, a division of Crossroads Entertainment & Marketing, gathered at the Cardinal Restaurant in Louisville, Kentucky to celebrate two recent #1 hits. The Old Paths' radio single "God's Great," written by Rodney Birch, was #1 on the June 2013 Singing News Top 80 chart. The Kingdom Heirs' #1, "Just Beyond the Sunset," written by Dianne Wilkinson, is #1 on the current October 2013 Singing News Top 80 chart.

"What a run it's been," said Kingdom Heirs baritone and manager Steve French. "It took us several years to ever reach that #1 position but now we've had eight to make it to the top. That's what happens when you have great songs, a great production, and the best radio department in the business!"

Old Paths baritone and manager Douglas Roark added, "We never imagined coming out of the gate with #1 songs. But to have two in a row, back to back, is just unbelievable. We owe so much to our record company, Crossroads Entertainment and especially to Jim Stover for doing such a great job representing our songs in the world of radio. We couldn't be more excited!"

Chris White, President of Sonlite Records, commented: "It's not often that you get to work with what may be two of the best quartets to ever have sung a note in our business. That's what we've got with the Kingdom Heirs and The Old Paths. As well, they are both very serious about how they present the music with their abundance of talent and with the message these songs contain. We're thrilled with our association with each of these artists."

The Old Paths' follow-up single, "He's My Song," has been heating up the charts; it has already reached the #6 position on the November 2013 chart. Meanwhile, the Kingdom Heirs' new single, "The Borrowed Tomb," is off to a strong start, as the #1 most added song for Singing News' November 2013 Top New Releases chart.
