

The exciting new family group, The Goulds are excited to announce the launch of their newly redesigned website. They have made many improvements with the website including a change in the web address. It has been updated with new pictures, colors and a redesigned layout.

It is now easier to contact and schedule them with a direct link button. Fans can now easily email The Goulds directly for anything they might need. The contact information and booking information are now on the same page. There are also links to their Facebook and Twitter accounts so that keeping up with them has never been easier.

The oldest daughter Kelsey is taking over the management and daily upkeep of the website and other social media outlets. She is excited to be taking on this new responsibility for the group and is looking forward to exciting new things to come.

Tim Gould stated “I am happy and excited about Kelsey handling our social media outlets. I think this will bring a new and youthful freshness that our younger fans will identify with and enjoy while still maintaining the professional appearance and ease of use that all of our fans have become accustomed to.”

The Goulds also now have videos and links on their main page where you can watch their performance on the main stage of NQC this year as well as a promo video and other interviews and news.
