

Liberty Quartet is pleased to announce the arrival of their newest vocalist, Paul Ellis. Paul is no stranger to Liberty Quartet, having traveled with the group for nearly four years before stepping down in 2006 to serve as a worship pastor. Group manager Royce Mitchell states, "I am thrilled to have Paul back on stage with us. His heart for worship and incredible voice will be an instant asset to Liberty's ministry. I can't wait to see what God has for Liberty Quartet in the days ahead!" Ellis will join Liberty Quartet in mid-February. Make plans now to attend a Liberty concert in your area and celebrate this new chapter of ministry.
