

Daywind Records of Nashville, TN is excited to announce a new CD by the Hoskins Family. They are known for their great family harmony and strong emotion expressed in their songs. The Hoskins Family is geared to have another chart busting album on their hands. Joyce Martin and Angie Hoskins have combined their creative talents to produce three new singles in this collection

The album is titled A Gathering: The Hits Of Then and Now and released January 21, 2014. The songs on the album include the mega-hit that brought the Hoskins Family to prominence "Safe That Far" written by Kyla Rowland, the BMI Most Air-played Song Award "Places To Go, People To See" written by Gerald Crabb and chart topper "You Keep Loving Me" penned by Angie Hoskins.

This CD has several other hit songs with which you will be familiar. A Gathering: The Hits Of Then and Now has delivered a top charting new song for The Hoskins Family, "Whenever I Hear His Name" written by Marty Funderburke which is #6 in the Singing News chart for March.. Lifeway and Family Christian stores are pushing the product as many other independent stores were excited to put the Hoskins Family back on the shelf.

"God Is Big" is authored by Annie McRae and is an up beat, drive down the road with the windows down kind of song. It's performed by Angie and her 17 year old daughter Abigail with guest star Joyce Martin and sure to be a favorite.

Lastly, "Endless Tomorrows", also written by Marty Funderburke is a heart felt ballad with the true Hoskins Family sound.
