

Duane Frame -- He Touched Me

Written by Scott Evans

Friday, 19 September 2008 20:10 - Last Updated Friday, 19 September 2008 20:31

Artist: Duane Frame

Project Title: He Touched Me

Label: Independent

Producer: Faron & Jonathan Cole

Reviewed By: Abigail Wingate

Purchase this project at: www.theframes.bravehost.com

Recently we received a project from Duane Frame for review here at the SG Music Forum offices and we are pleased to present that review. Duane is a soloist from Ohio and has a nice selection of songs.

"Build My Mansion" is the first song and has always been a favorite of mine. "To Much To Gain To Lose" is the next song and this Dottie Rambo song has a great message. "Sweet Beulah Land" is a beautiful song with a great message of one day going to Heaven.

One great song with a terrific message is "Sheltered In The Arms Of God." "He Touched Me" continues the wonderful list of songs that are on this project. "I Call It Home" is the next song.

"He Didn't Throw The Clay Away" is a hit song from the Lesters a few years ago. "When He Was On The Cross" is the next song and the project finishes up with "Thank You Lord For Your Blessing On Me."

This project is a great collection of songs that are very well known in Southern Gospel Music. The song selection is terrific and Duane has a good project here. For more information on Duane, visit his website at www.theframes.bravehost.com

.